

Time Out

New York

OCTOBER 29–NOVEMBER 4, 2009 ISSUE 735
$3.99 TIMEOUTNEWYORK.COM

Critics' picks

MIXED MEDIA

"There Goes My Hero" A Center for Book Arts, see Museums Embroidery, tassels and nail markings are but a few of the materials that make their way into these charged works.

PAINTING

Elizabeth Deasy
Wild Project, see Lower East Side/
East Village

A wide range of complex colors in these canvases seem to bring a quality of light to this intimate gallery.

PHOTOGRAPHY

Erin Shirreff
Lisa Cooley, see Lower East Side/
East Village

Trompe l'oeil and doubletakes are part of the experience in these works, which stretch the limits of visual perception.

DRAWING

Dan Fischer
Derek Eller, see Chelsea
These meticulously rendered graphite drawings of famous art pieces eerily resemble real life.

VIDEO

Andrea Bowers
Andrew Kreps Gallery, see Chelsea These works comment on getting the short end of the economic and environmental stick while still being visually breathtaking.

SCULPTURE

"Pinch Pots and Pyramids"
Kate Werble, see Soho
The primitive merges with the spiritual in these handcrafted works by a group of artists.